My 5 year old daughter is using this book while her 7 year old brother is using book B, both starting the program this year. We have already seen great improvement in both children's writing and my daughter has only completed the first 9 practice lessons! I will say though that the practice lessons in the beginning of the book are too long. When I realized this I cut the lessons in half and they are much easier for her to complete in a timely fashion. Also I think there are way too many practice lessons, so I have let her start decorating border sheets (explained below) to fill in and give away. Maybe if her brother wasn't doing this already in book B then we would have waited, but she was so excited to do it like him and I bought an extra book of sheets anyway. The book starts with 30 practice lessons then takes the student through a focus Bible verse practicing a little bit 4 days a week the 5th day decorating a border sheet then using your best handwriting write the verse on the border sheet. Once complete give it away to someone. They are having fun giving their work away to friends and family!By the way my son is passed the practice lessons (there are less practice lessons) in book B and on week 2 of regular lessons and has majorly improved his hand writing and has almost stopped writing in all capital letters. Yah! I am so glad that I am starting my daughter in book A so that I do not have to fight the same battles with her as I did with my son.I would have given this book 5 stars, but at a beginner level the first 30 practice lessons are too long and should have been cut in half, but this is easy enough for you to do yourself.
