

The book was found

Reminiscences Of The Yukon (1912)

Synopsis

The author's experiences in the Yukon region covered the period from 1898 to 1909. For the first three years he was employed principally in mining, until a severe accident, which resulted in permanent lameness, compelled him to abandon it. For the next two years he lived in Dawson, and then moved to the Pelly River, and remained in the vicinity for about six years, engaged in exploring, hunting, and trapping. His knowledge and experience of a trapper's life enable him to give extremely interesting information about the habits of fur-bearing animals, and the adventures and hardships attendant on their pursuit. Many good yarns are narrated of the early days on the Yukon, and there are a number of graphic illustrations. His experiences on the Pelly and McMillan rivers as a trapper cover a phase of frontier life of which little has been published. His accounts of the methods followed in trapping, and remarks on the game of the country — "fish, fowl and beast" — are contributions to an accurate knowledge of the natural history of the Yukon watershed that will be eagerly read. Probably the most interesting chapter in the volume, certainly so to scientists, is that on color protection and big game. The account of the Indians is discouraging to the well-wishers of the aborigines. The illustrations are of interest in their presenting methods of trapping with which most general readers are unfamiliar. The author writes: "At the time of the boom I was staying at Victoria, on Vancouver Island, and when marvellous reports were continually arriving and being circulated, Victoria, like every other place, naturally became infected with the gold fever. I had resided off and on in British Columbia for many years before the Klondyke boom, and had, therefore, experienced enough mining to know that the reports must be greatly exaggerated. At the same time, opportunities for making money might possibly exist, and accordingly I started off with two companions in 1898. After purchasing an outfit in Victoria, together with three sleighs and twelve dogs, we proceeded in a small and very dirty steamer to a place called Wrangle, on the Alaskan coast, near the mouth of the river Stickene." This was the beginning of the author's 11 years of adventure as a gold miner and trapper in the Yukon.

CONTENTS I. THE YUKON VALLEY II. MY TRIP TO THE KLONDYKE IN 1898 III. FIRST EXPERIENCES OF DAWSON IV. THE WINTER OF 1898 V. STAMPEDES VI. THE MINES VII. THE PELLY RIVER VIII. COLOUR PROTECTION AND BIG GAME IX. THE M'MILLAN RIVER X. YUKON INDIANS XI. THE TRADING POST

Originally published in 1912; reformatted for the Kindle; may contain an occasional imperfection.

Book Information

File Size: 1646 KB

Print Length: 384 pages

Simultaneous Device Usage: Unlimited

Publication Date: May 1, 2016

Language: English

ASIN: B01F1IG93C

Text-to-Speech: Enabled

X-Ray: Not Enabled

Word Wise: Enabled

Lending: Not Enabled

Enhanced Typesetting: Enabled

Best Sellers Rank: #648,043 Paid in Kindle Store (See Top 100 Paid in Kindle Store) #56

in Kindle Store > Kindle eBooks > Engineering & Transportation > Engineering > Civil >

Environmental > Mining #56 in Kindle Store > Kindle eBooks > Nonfiction > Science > Earth

Sciences > Prospecting & Mining #56 in Kindle Store > Kindle eBooks > Engineering &

Transportation > Engineering > Civil > Mining

Download to continue reading...

Reminiscences of the Yukon (1912) Yukon Quest: The 1,000 Mike Dog Sled Race through the Yukon and Alaska Pleasures of the Vietnamese Table: Recipes and Reminiscences from Vietnam's Best Market Kitchens, Street Cafes, and Home Cooks Tasting Brazil: Regional Recipes and Reminiscences The Duke University Medical Center (1892-1960): Reminiscences of W.C. Davison, Dean of the Duke University Medical School 1927-1960 Make It Pay! : Gold Dredge #4 : Klondike, Yukon, Canada Robert Service: Under the Spell of the Yukon, Second Edition Yukon: The Last Frontier Good Time Girls of the Alaska-Yukon Gold Rush In Old Roseau. Reminiscences Of Life As I Found It In The Island Of Dominica, And Among The Carib Indians Cracker Times and Pioneer Lives: The Florida Reminiscences of George Gillett Keen and Sarah Pamela Williams The Passing of the Armies: An Account of the Final Campaign of the Army of the Potomac, Based upon Personal Reminiscences of the Fifth Army Corps Rivers of Gold (Yukon Quest Book #3) An Illustrated History of Monroe County, Iowa: A Complete Civil, Political, and Military History of the County, From Its Earliest Period of ... Biography, and Long-Drawn Reminiscences S Tigerland: Reminiscences of Forty Years' Sport and Adventure in Bengal (1916) A Land Gone Lonesome: An Inland Voyage Along the Yukon River Yukon Alone: The World's Toughest Adventure Race The 1912 and 1915 Gustav Stickley Craftsman Furniture Catalogs Titanic 1912: The original news reporting of the sinking of the Titanic Great Passenger Ships of the World: 1858-1912

